“Carbon Men Salvation: The Senator’s Dilemma”

synopsis: Climate change is overheating the planet, but Congress is frozen to action. Humanity is caught in the devastating fallout; there is only one chance to change the future - by traveling into the past. Climatologist Anna Jones is researching a massive collapsing glacier in Antarctica; it will drown coastal cities, trigger unprecedented numbers of climate refugee and loss of life, and worse. Anna’s father is New Jersey Senator Dan Jones; he is pivotal to the success or failure of a key climate bill. The vote is imminent. Powerful factions work against them as the world teeters on the prime tipping point where human behavior, science and legislation collide. Can Noah Poem, a time traveling scientist from the future, help stop the madness? Time is running out as science fiction meets science fact. One vote could save humanity.
